A spate of cyber-attacks against UK schools has claimed its latest victim after a Maidstone secondary school suffered a serious security breach late last week.

The Church of England St Augustine Academy in the Kent commuter town serves over 1000 pupils in the local community.

encrypted to security, displayed last by ransomware attackers, after confidential information is exfiltrated from targeted systems.

The external WisePay payment system remains secure, but Feldwick reportedly urged anxious parents to be extra vigilant in case they receive "unusual emails or phone calls" following the incident.

2022 – 500M paid
2023 to date – 449.1M paid

"in 2023, it's more about making sure the villains don't sell or leak your data, as opposed to just encrypting and keeping it"
